FEATURED PROGRAM

Out of 180 academic programs, our Master of Social Work offers a unique opportunity for students to maximize their return on investment in a rapidly growing market with an advanced degree. Our students graduate ready to become leaders for positive change in their community and the world.

Master of Social Work

Consistently ranked the No. 1 Master of Social Work (MSW) online program in the nation, UTA's MSW offers motivated professionals a real opportunity to improve their careers and the lives of those in their communities. In addition to convenient, accessible asynchronous online coursework, MSW students will learn alongside nursing, medical, and public health students through interprofessional education opportunities embedded throughout the program. These experiences provide valuable insights into allied healthcare systems and further contextualize the role and impact of social workers.

With three convenient start dates and full-time and part-time options, the MSW is perfect for busy, working professionals to advance their career in community wellness. To help sharpen their expertise, MSW students in the online program can select from four specialties: Aging, Mental Health & Substance Misuse, Children & Families, and Community & Administrative Practice.

Students who have completed their Bachelor of Social Work (BSW) at a CSWE-accredited institution within the last six years and whose GPA is 3.0 or higher in their last 60 credit hours of undergraduate work may qualify for advanced standing in the MSW program. Advanced standing students can complete the MSW in as little as 38 credit hours – only one year full-time.

Applicants with a bachelor's degree in a discipline other than social work and a 3.0 GPA or higher in their last 60 credit hours of undergraduate work can be admitted under our Quick Admissions program. These traditional standing students can earn their MSW in two years full-time completing 61 credit hours. Applicants with less than a 3.0 GPA may have to submit additional documentation.

Enrolling with a BSW degree is not necessary for the program. In fact, more than 65% of our MSW students earned their bachelor's degree in a discipline other than social work. That's testament to the wide range of industries and job titles MSW students can jump into. From hospitals and healthcare to nonprofits, welfare services, criminal justice systems, and schools across the country, MSW students go on to work in a wide range of settings. Social work is one of the fastest-growing career fields. Between 2021 and 2031, social work as an occupation has a projected 9% growth rate with over 60,000 anticipated annual job openings.

"I completed my undergraduate studies in psychology at UTA and am now pursuing my MSW degree, specializing in Mental Health. After graduation, I plan to become a pediatric mental health clinician in the medical setting, and plan to continue my research within the field."

- Yasmin Al-Zubi, MSW Student
